From the Amsterdam Courant, dated June 16.

Vienna, June 2.

THE Emperor has sent Lieutenant Colonel Wopfer into Silesia to raise 8 Companies of Foot of 150 Men each. This Court is concern'd at the Diet's continuing still at Ratisbon, and seem more desirous that the Deputies should remove from thence. There is a talk of raising 10000 Men of the Militia in the Province of Austria, and proportionably in the other Hereditary Countries, to be employ'd with the Regular Troops in opposing the Progress of the French and Bavarians.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated June 19.

Vienna, June 6. On the 4th Cardinal Lamberg arriv'd in this City, and yesterday had Audience of the Emperor. The Regiment of Montecuculi, which was marching hither out of Hungary, is countermanded, the Hungarians shewing great Disaffection to the present Administration, and appearing inclin'd to revolt. 'Tis thought Count Simay, who is speedily to be brought to his Tryal, will be pardon'd, it being found that the Proceedings against Prince Ragozzi have extreamly irritated the Hungarians: Nay, there is a Report, that some Troops have shewn themselves with the Name of Francis Ragozzi in their Standards: 'Tis certain, that there has been a Rencounter between some Hungarians and the Dragoons of the Regiment of Dirheim that are quarter'd in Hungary, in which 20 of the Dragoons were kill'd. 'Tis said the Malecontents are most turbulent about Mohatz and Corschan. Yesterday an Express was sent to that Kingdom, with the necessary Orders for stifling this Fire before it spread too far.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated June 16.

Ratisbon, June 7. Monsieur Spanheim Envoy of Holland, has deliver'd a Memorial to the Diet, which was read on the 4th in a full Assembly, and is in Substance as follows, ' That his Masters the High and Mighty States of the United Netherlands, caus'd a Representation to be made to the Diet, in Autumn last, of the Consequences that might result from the Junction of the French with the Bavarians, to excite them to take proper Measures to prevent it; at the same time acquainting them, that as their High Mightinesses had exerted all their Strength to hinder Hannibal from entring their Gates, it became the Empire to act in like manner: But that their High Mightinesses perceive with regret, that the Empire is not duly affected with these things, nor use requisite Diligence to bring into the Field the Troops that are necessary for the Defence of the Empire. That therefore their High Mightinesses most earnestly recommend to the States of the Empire, the exerting their utmost Efforts for bringing into the Field the Army they so long ago resolv'd to raise, that Germany and the rest of Europe may be preserv'd from the insupportable Yoke which France threatens to lay on their Necks. That their High Mightinesses have resolv'd to augment to 8 Squadrons and 20 Battallions the Troops they have already sent to the Upper Rhine to Succour the Empire: But that they cannot comprehend why they are not seconded in their Zeal by the States of the Empire. And that they foresee irreparable Mischief coming, unless their Allies act unanimously on all sides, and contribute all they are able to the Support of the Common Cause. Upon the reading of this Memorial, some of the Deputies propos'd to consult immediately of Meas to oblige every Circle without further delay to furnish their Contingent of Troops, Artillery and Ammunition; but others alledg'd it was too late for this Campaign, and too soon for the next; And that it was better to continue their Deliberations about providing for the Security of the Diet. Mean time the greatest part of the Deputies have receiv'd Orders from their Principals to continue here, and not to consent to the removing of the Diet to another Place; And in all appearance, if the Emperor persists in his refusal to send the Ratification so long demanded by the Diet and the Elector of Bavaria, some of the Deputies will be for taking other Methods to obtain a Security from the Elector of Bavaria. The Envoy of Bavaria has declar'd that he has not receiv'd his Master's Resolution concerning the Pals demanded of him, for the Ministers of the Diet to retire whither they please.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated June 19.

Ratisbon, June 11. The Design of providing for the Security of the Diet by treating further on that Subject with the Elector of Bavaria, seems daily to be more and more resolv'd on: When that is brought about, Endeavours will be us'd to obtain the Emperor's Ratification, and to oblige the Bavarian to withdraw his Troops out of this City: In order to which, a Remonstrance will then be made to the Imperial Court, that the Rights of the Princes and States of the Empire are infring'd by the disannulling of the Resolution taken by the Diet on this Affair; And that the said Princes and States are in such Apprehension of the Consequences of such a Proceeding, that they have cause to desire the Imperial Court to explain themselves further concerning it. But 'tis hoped Cardinal Lamberg, who is now at Vienna, will find some Expedient to settle this Business on better Terms. Mean time most of the Deputies have receiv'd Order to continue here; and as far as we can learn, none of the Ministers of the College of Princes, and but 2 or 3 of that of the Elector's, offer to remove. Yesterday a Letter from the Queen of Great Brittain was read; in which Her Majesty takes notice that the Diet had indeed resolv'd to raise 120000 Men, but had not brought them into the Field, which had given the Enemy an Opportunity to possess themselves of Kehl, and to penetrate so far into the Empire, that the Damage is irreparable, unless the Resolutions of the Diet are effectually put in Execution; Wherefore Her Majesty earnestly recommends to them, the taking fit Measures for speedily bringing the Army of the Empire into the Field, &c. There are Letters out of Swabia which say, that most of the Noblemen of that Country having convey'd the best of their Goods to Reutin in the Country of Tyrol, a Fire happen'd in which they were all consum'd. The Loss is computed at four Millions.

Landau, June 11. Yesterday the Enemy's Army advanc'd to Suls, and to day is come so near to this City, that we expect to be invested tomorrow.

From the Harlem Courant, dated June 19.

Landau, June 12. To night arriv'd a Courier with Advice, that the French are march'd back from Haguenau to Strasburg: Yesterday one of our Trumpeters who was sent to the Enemy by Prince Lewis of Baden with a Message about exchanging some Prisoners, came hither, and reports, that he rode through the French Army, and found they were but 15000 Men strong. The Duke of Burgundy has brught a Reinforcement of 4000 Men only.

Spiers, June 12. We have receiv'd certain Advice, that the French Army which was reported to be 40000 Men strong, is at most but of 20000, and that they are march'd back to Strasburg.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated June 19.

Menz, June 13. We have Advice that part of the Enemy's Army is come to Hagenau, and that on the 10th their Head Quarters were at Suls; They have 70 pieces of Cannon with them.

Frankfort, June 13. The Duke of Burgundy arriv'd on the 8th in the French Army, which according to the Advices from several Places is drawn so near to Landau, that it cannot be long before that Place is besieged. On the 11th the French Army was at Croon-Weyssenberg.

Hague, June 17. Baron Opdam and Monsieur Hop Treasures General of the Army, went from hence to day to Bergen op Zoom, from whence we have Letters of the 15th which say, that the Troops would be ready to enter upon Action on the 18th.

From the Army of the Allies commanded by the Duke of Marlborough encamp'd at Hanness, June 18. The 2 Armies continue in their former Camps. On the 15th in the Morning, a Danish Lieutenant Collonel being on the Patroll with a Party of 140 Horse, fell in, between the 2 Camps, with 400 French Horse, most of which lay hid in Ambush, only some few of them appear'd, who were charg'd by a Cornet and 20 Men whom the Lieutenant Collonel seconded: But the rest of the Enemy issuing out upon them, our Party was put into disorder, and the Lieutenant Collonel, a Captain, and the Cornet, with 12 Men, were taken, and 8 kill'd; but our Men recovering from their Surprise, rallied, and charg'd the Enemy with so much Bravery, that they made them retire. This Action happen'd on the same Spot of Ground where a Party of the Enemies was beaten the day before. The Prisoners we took from them then are sent to Maestricht; and the Enemy have sent those they took from us to Brussels; there being no Cartel.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated June 18.

Letters from the Neutral Countries of the 5th of this Month tell us, that the Malecontents of the Sevennes are reinforce'd by 500 Men of the Vivarez, that they have burnt 2 Villages near Anduze tho' there were 2000 of the King's Troops in that Town who durst not come out against them. They mention likewise a new Action in which 14 or 1500 of the Royalists were defeated, and assure us that the Caenfars are Masters of the Field.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated June 19.

Geneva, June 6. Letters out of the Sevennes of the 20th of May advise, that the Caenfars have burnt Fairinée, and defeated the King's Troops near Bagnols, and pursued them to Nimes; after which they burnt the Churches of Veageise and Pont de Sacozon near Montpelier: That a Party of them presented themselves before the Gates of St. Jean de Gardine, but that the King's Troops tho' 2000 in number, durst not come out to fight them.
